

FOR WHOM THE WINDFALLS?

Winners & losers in the privatisation of
Zambia's copper mines

This report and Development Agreements between the private mining companies and the Government of Zambia can be downloaded from www.minewatchzambia.com. The website will also be updated with news and campaign information and will be a space for comment and discussion by readers. If you have comments on the report, they can be posted online here. If you do not have access to the internet but would like to have your comments recorded, please post hard copies to the organisations listed below.

Civil Society Trade Network of Zambia
P.O Box 50882
181B Bishops Road, Kabulonga
Lusaka, Zambia
Tel: + 26 01 266234, Fax: + 26 01 261600
Email: cstnz@coppernet.zm

CSTNZ is an alliance of Zambian NGOs, individuals and church bodies interested in trade issues at local, national, regional and international level and who believe in “Trade Justice For Poverty Reduction.” CSTNZ provides opportunities for research, information sharing, networking, advocacy, lobbying and capacity building.

Catholic Centre for Justice, Development and Peace
Zambia Episcopal Conference
P.O. Box 31965,
Kapingila House, Kabulonga
Lusaka, Zambia
Tel: + 26 01-260980, 261789 Fax: + 26 01-260950
Email: zeccjdp@zamnet.zm

The mission of CCJDP is to promote economic justice, social justice, human dignity and empowerment of the less privileged in society through conscientization, advocacy, research, training and institutional strengthening.

Alastair Fraser is based at the University of Oxford
Professor John Lungu is based at Copperbelt University

Acknowledgements:

Funding for the entire project was provided by Christian Aid in the UK. The authors are grateful to all of the individuals who gave generously of their time to be interviewed during three weeks of field research. They are listed in the sources section at the end of this report. The Copperbelt Health Education Project (CHEP) in Kitwe generously provided office space for the duration of the research. Collins Mwansa provided adventurous driving during a day collecting photographs. We are also grateful for access to archives and documents provided by the Mineworkers Union of Zambia (MUZ) and Citizens for a Better Environment (CBE). Much of the content of the report draws directly from the knowledge and experience of staff at CHEP, MUZ, CBE and CCJDP in Ndola rather than being primary research by the authors. We hope that they find the report supportive of their long years of campaigning for the rights of workers and communities on the Copperbelt.

Contents

1 Executive Summary – 6 problems with privatisation in Zambian copper mines	1
1) One-sided deals
2) Inadequate regulation, illegal operations and impunity
3) Casualisation of the workforce
4) Deepening pensioner poverty
5) Lack of linkages to local business
6) Failure to protect the social infrastructure
7) Securing a social license to operate
Policy Recommendations
2 The Historical Role of Copper Mining in the Zambian Economy and Society	7
From colonialism to nationalisation
The economic role and social functions of ZCCM
The crisis of the ZCCM model
3 The Privatisation Process	8
The move to liberalisation
Privatisation under the MMD and the role of external aid donors
How should the companies be regulated?
Which of the ZCCM mines went to whom?
Under what terms were Development Agreements signed with new owners?
Development Agreements and Tax
Development Agreements and the Environment
Development Agreements and responsibility to workers, communities and local economies
Development Agreements and Official Secrecy
Problems in the negotiating process
4 Successes of Privatisation	19
New money
Higher production
New mines
New profits
5 The Impact of Privatisation on Mine Workers	21
Mass redundancies
Unpaid Pensions
Casualisation and poverty wages
Casualisation and safety problems
Casualisation and problems organising and representing workers
Expatriate labour
Company approaches to casualisation
Government approaches to regulation of safety and labour issues
PROFILE: Reuben Mondoka, former mineworker

6 The Impact of Privatisation on Copperbelt Communities	32
Social impacts of privatisation
Impacts on the environment
PROFILE: KCM and the pollution of the Kafue River
Access to land and housing
Impacts on the upkeep of the mining townships
Impacts on the provision of health-care
HIV-AIDS policies
MCM's AIDS policies
KCM's AIDS policies
PROFILE: Isaac Mumba, former ZCCM Health Officer, current AIDS campaigner
7 Chambishi Mines/NFC-Africa – Are the Chinese the worst investors?	48
Investment
Employment
Social impacts of privatisation around Chambishi
Health provision
Preventative health care
State of the townships
Corporate resistance to regulation and inappropriate relations with Government
Union busting
8 The Impact of Privatisation on the Zambian Economy	54
Foreign Ownership
The tax take from Zambian mining
Training of the local workforce
Linkages from the mines to other industries
9 Could renegotiating the Development Agreements provide funds for development and to overcome aid dependence?	60
The relationship between copper revenues and aid dependence
How much more money does Zambia need now?
Does copper present an alternative to aid dependence and a new debt trap?
How might such a renegotiation occur?
What negotiating capital would the Government and companies bring to the talks?
The role of the IMF in the negotiations
10 Policy Recommendations	67
Appendices	70
End notes	80
Bibliography	84